I like the graphics with all those neons. Musics are cool too. But it doesn't challenge me as i expected from infinite runner game. If developers work on difficulty, it has potential to be addictive. In the game, as far as i understand (there is no story behind except description in store page) you are trying to run away from a spaceship with a jetpack. You dont see the jetpack however controlling it helps you to levitate. It make me feel like i am in control which is important not to have nausea. While you are flying, you have to avoid obstacles. There are different stages at the game with different environments. And the main purpose of the game is beating your own highscore. It would be good to see others with leaderboard. As early access, it is worth what i paid as long as studio keeps their promises about updating the game with mentioned plan.. I like the graphics with all those neons. Musics are cool too.
